"From the first consultation to the flowers being received, I felt at ease that the flowers were going to be stunning and they delivered in every way. Both my partner and I are not flowery people so we didn't have a clear vision until we meet with them and I still couldn't of imagined the quality"

"From the moment of contacting Emily&Me, I found Sam friendly, welcoming and eager to realise my vision within my budget. She ensured that we met up straight away to talk through all ideas and pictures I had as well as her own portfolio and was flexible with her quote in order to help me keep the cost down with minimum compromise on what I wanted. She remained in contact throughout the build up and nothing was too small to ask. I was excited to see my flowers on the day they were beautiful!"

"The consultation was very informative, relaxed and didn't pressurise us to go over our budget. The flowers arrived to us promptly on the day and were well presented. There was a small confusion with the number of buttonholes we received compared to the order but it didn't ruin our day."
